TRIBUTES OF LOVE

To My Son(shine)

Every day I close my eyes I picture our first sights of one another. I remember all of our first moments. From saying "ma ma", to your first steps, our first holidays, our endless hugs and kiss, saying we love each other every night after saying good night even to your first day of school. I may not be able to carry you in my arms, but I will always carry you in my heart. You gave me life and a reason to live. We were growing and learning from each other, I just wish we could grow old together. No one can and will never understand our love and bond. There's not greater love between a mother and her sons. Although my days have gotten darker and my nights have gotten longer, there will always be days I look for you. My rainbow and my sunshine. I will always cherish every memory and keep you close to my heart and your brothers. I am so proud of the man you were growing into but my proudest moment will always be being able to call you my son.

-Mama Loves You Levi Elijah. Forever.
You'll be #Forever 5

To my son, Gods perfect angel, I thank God for being blessed to have my own natural born "twin". From the way you looked, smiled, and even laughed nothing could've made you more perfect to me. The way you looked up to me not just as a father but as a role model was the best feeling I could ever ask for. Your smile always brighten up the darkest rooms, your presence and love was and will ALWAYS be remembered. I Love You so much "Twin".

-Love Daddy (Officer!)

A Letter to Our Big Brother,

Gone are the days we use to share, but forever in our hearts. You were always there with a smile, a hug and laughter. There is no other love like the love of a brother. The love and unity we share will remain the same. We with you were here to grow old with us, but the gates of our memories will never close. We miss you more than anybody knows. Thank you for choosing us as your little brothers. Goodbye big brother, you deserve your eternal rest. We love you Levi. Forever

-Larry Byrd III & Greysen Lewis

Nana's Fat Dude, I can't find the words to express how I feel. Your smile would always light up my heart with love and joy. I was eagerly awaiting the day you were able to have a conversation with me more than the short phrases that your disability limited you to. Now you don't have to worry about using your words, God understands without you saying anything. I'm going to miss the times you would come to lay in under me in the bed, ask for my phone or tablet, insist on taking a bath in my bathtub, flipping over the foot of my bed, trying to get out of your car seat while I was driving, running to me when your mom said no, giving me a big hug when I got home from work, and listening to 5 little monkey's on repeat. You will continue to have a special place in my heart. Say hi to my father and sister for me as I await the day when we will all meet in the sky.

-Love Nana (Gran'ma)

I have much appreciation for the time GOD gave me with my grandson to Love Him, we played games that I know he enjoyed because he always had a laughter that was so heartfelt within me. Simply said, I Love Him Always!!!

-Grandpa Larry Sr.

Levi had and has a way of showing us all what true love is about. He had a game he loved to play. He'd get a set of play handcuffs and laughingly say turn around, turn around. And he'd capture us with these handcuffs. He not only captured us with these cuffs, but Levi truly CAPTURED all of us with his amazing love and laughter. I miss you more than you'll ever know grandson.

-Love Me' Na. Grandma Kistner

No Matter the day, Levi always wanted his "auntie mama" Larri'. He had a smile & persona that lit up the room. To know Levi, was to love him. I'm glad God allowed me to be alongside him for the 5 years we've shared together. Levi had a wild imagination & such a fearless soul. He loved monkeys and thought he was a monkey in real life. He loved the beach, and he loved Pepsi & most of all pizza. He also loved to play hide and seek. He had a captivating voice when he would sing his favorite tunes. Levi saw the world a bit differently than everyone else. A life short but tender and sweet. Levi would pretend a lot. He pretended to be asleep to keep from going to bed, but he pretended to be a police officer the best. He would put me in his handcuffs & say "I got you". I wish I could hear "I got you auntie" again. I will always remember those days. Loving you always my sweet baby boy.

-Love Auntie Mama
